Summary

On July 7, 1994, the war between the Yemen Arab Republic (North Yemen) ⁽¹⁾ and the People's Democratic Republic of Yemen (South Yemen) ⁽²⁾ ended. North Yemen won the war. Since then, South Yemen has been experiencing unprecedented escalation in the violations of human rights and international human law in what was known as South Yemen. This report documented (252) deaths, including 22 children, and 8 women. It covered the time period from January 1, 2014 to December 31, 2014.

In the year of 2014, the Yemeni Security and Military Forces (Y.S.M.F) and its armed militias continued targeting the southern civilians. Y.S.M.F committed the violations of human rights principles and rules of international humanitarian law. Which included killings, assassinations, bombings, incursions and siege the South's cities and villages, destruction of the infrastructure, and collective punishment on southern civilians. On 2014, 96 civilians were merderd by the Yemeni Security and Military Forces (Y.S.M.F).

Assassinations targeting Southern military and security officials continued. On 2014, over 55 military and security officers were assassinated and dozens of others survived attempted assassinations. Those responsiblefor most of these killings were not identifiedand no report of any prosecutions of allegedperpetrators was received.

Tens of individuals, including state employees, religiousleaders, activists, and journalists, were merderd, assassinated, and random bombings by unknown armed groubs. On 2014, over 102 civilians were killed.

The violations against southern civilians are still escalating, especially after the start of the Southern Peaceful Movement (Al-Hiraak al-Janoubi). The Southern Peaceful Movement was formed on July 7, 2007. This movement demanded independence and restoration of South State, which existed up until the union of the Yemen Arab Republic (North Yemen) and the People's Democratic Republic of Yemen (South Yemen) in 1990.

Although the Southern Peaceful Movement commitment to the peaceful struggle by establishing demonstrations, oratorical festivals, and peaceful gatherings. The violence has expanded against the civilians who are protected under the international law. Yemeni regime faced it with excessive use of force in an attempt to eliminate it. The unlawful killings of civilians and political assassinations of the military and security increased. Collective massacres, destruction, and displacement committed for many areas of the South.

⁽³⁾ Hadramout Tribal Alliance: An umbrella gathering of powerful tribes in the oil-rich province of Hadramout

We call upon the international community, including the High Contracting Parties to the Fourth Geneva Convention of 1949 on the protection of civilians in times of war, as well as international organizations, to intervene to immediately stop the Yemeni violations against the Southerners. An action should be taken to put an end to the Serious deterioration in the human rights situation and the situation in the south.

Many of the abuses documented are serious violations of international humanitarian law and require those responsible be held accountable. The principles of international humanitarian law states that the parties to the conflict must at all times distinguish between civilians and combatants. Attacks may only be directed against combatants. Attacks must not be directed against civilians. Also, collective punishments are prohibited under international humanitarian law in all circumstances which would also constitute a war crime. The international and arabic community silence encourages the (Y.S.M.F) to perpetrate more of these violations.

Recommendations to the International Community

We emphasize that the international community's position that South Yemen is still under North Yemen occupation which admitted by Commander General Ali Muhsin Al-Ahmar, the Commander of the Northwestern Military Zone ⁽⁴⁾. We further confirm that (Y.S.M.F) have continued to impose collective punishment measures on South Yemen. We stress that there is an international recognition of Yemen's obligation to respect international human rights instruments and the international humanitarian law, especially the Hague Regulations concerning the Laws and Customs of War on Land and the Geneva Conventions. Israel is bound to apply the international human rights law and the law of war sometime reciprocally and other times in a parallel way; a way that achieves the best protection for civilians and remedy for victims.

In light of the continued arbitrary measures and the continued aggression against civilians in South Yemen, we call upon the international community, United Nations, the High Contracting Parties, the Geneva Convention, and the European Union, in the context of their natural obligation to respect and enforce the international law. We call them to cooperate and act according to the following recommendations:

1. Call upon the international community and the United Nations to use all available means to allow the Southern people to enjoy their right to self-determination.
2. Call upon the United Nations to provide international protection to the Southern people.
3. Call upon the High Contracting Parties to the Geneva Conventions to compel Yemen, a High Contracting Party to the Conventions, to apply the Conventions in the occupied South;.
4. Call upon the Parties to international human rights instruments, especially the Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and the Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, to pressurize Yemen to comply with their provisions in the occupied South. We also call them to compel it to incorporate the human rights situation in the South in its reports submitted to the concerned committees.
5. Call upon the High Contracting Parties to the Geneva Conventions to fulfill their obligation to ensure the application of the Conventions, including extending the scope of their jurisdiction in order to prosecute suspected war criminals, regardless of the nationality of the perpetrator and the place of a crime, to pave the way for prosecuting suspected Yemeni war criminals and end the longstanding impunity they have enjoyed.
6. Calls upon the European Union to activate Article 1 of the EU-Yemen Association Agreement, which provides that both sides must respect human rights, and the EU must not ignore Yemeni violation and crimes against Southern civilians.

Methodology

Information contained in this report is obtained from multiple sources. The most prominent sources are the Southern Peaceful Movement and human rights activists whom are present in the south. The other sources are from local newspapers and websites such as: alomanaa.net, attariq-ye.com, akhbaralyom.net, adenalghad.net, almasdaronline.com, and other newspapers and sites that are indicated in the table attached, which includes the number of dead (see pages 12-40). The facts are also collected through interviews and meetings with families of victims.

This report is also based on the statement issued by Human Rights Watch “Yemen: Lethal Force Against Southern Protesters” which confirmed that Yemeni security forces apparently used excessive lethal force against peaceful demonstrators in Aden.⁽⁵⁾ Also, based on the report issued by Amnesty International " Report 2014/15: The State of the World's Human Rights” which confirmed that Government forces committed human rights violations, including unlawful killings and enforced disappearances, against supporters of secession in the south. Also, the army responded to with excessive and unlawful lethal force against the peaceful demonstrations that organized by the Southern Movement (al-Hirak al-Janoubi).⁽⁶⁾

We are grateful to the parties and individuals who submitted observations on the content of this report; in particular, Human Rights activists, jurists, and journalists. We also value the efforts being made by the individuals in preparation of this report by providing the names and pictures of deaths, and monitoring the human rights situation in the South; especially the human rights activists Omer Awad Al-Shugri and Marwan Saleh Ahmed.

We like to point out that the report may not cover all the number of martyrs and the dead, but it reflects the realistic indication of the human rights situation in the South; which is a continuation of the 1994 war. We call upon those who wish to participate and contribute to enrich this report by adding information not stated in this report by sending us an e-mail to suleimanawad@yahoo.com

I. Background

South Yemen is located in the southwest corner of the Arabian Peninsula. It extends along the southern part of the Arabian Peninsula from Oman in the east to Bab Al Mandab in the west. It is bordered by Saudi Arabia and North Yemen to the north, Oman to the east, and the Indian Ocean to the south. Its total area is 337,000 sq km (130,116 sq mi). The total estimate of the population is 4 million. South Yemen has a number of islands spreading along the Red Sea and the Arabian Sea. The largest of these islands is Socotra, which lies off the coast about 150 km. ⁽⁷⁾

South Yemen gained its independence from Britain on November 30, 1967. South Yemen established a modern civil state that was known as the People's Democratic Republic of Yemen (P.D.R.Y). It was a member of the Arab League, the Islamic Conference, and the United Nations. On May 22, 1990 the People's Democratic Republic of Yemen (P.D.R.Y) and Yemen Arab Republic (Y.A.R) agreed on being peacefully united to establish a Republic of Yemen. The (Y.A.R) regime disrupted the unite agreements, and then declared the war against the South.

On July 7, 1994, the (Y.A.R) occupied the (P.D.R.Y); this occupation was admitted by Commander General Ali Muhsin Al-Ahmar, the Commander of the Northwestern Military Zone, he stated that:

“The Yemen unity was achieved on May 22, 1990. Ali Saleh was the president at the time, and he ruled the North with tyranny and the South by occupation”. ⁽⁸⁾

On June 1, 1994, the United Nations Security Council adopted resolution 924 that stated, “Calls for an immediate cease-fire; Reminds all concerned that their political differences cannot be resolved through the use of force and urges them to return immediately to negotiations which will permit a peaceful resolution of their differences and a restoration of peace and stability; Requests the Secretary-General to send a fact-finding mission to the area as soon as practicable to assess prospects for a renewed dialogue among all those concerned”. ⁽⁹⁾ However, The (Y.A.R) regime ignored the Security Council resolution and continued its aggressive war against the south. They bombed the cities in the South, especially city of Aden. Yemen Arab Republic killed and injured thousands of victims and caused a massive destruction among civilians.

⁽⁹⁾ See UN Security Council resolution S/RES/924 (1994) on June 1, 1994, at its 3386th meeting on the situation in Yemen.

As a result of above situation, the United Nations Security Council condemned the failure of immediate and completed halt to the shelling of the city of Aden by adopting a resolution 931 on June 29, 1994. This resolution stated “Strongly deplores the infliction of civilian casualties and destruction resulting from the continuing military assault on Aden; Reiterates that political differences cannot be resolved through the use of force, deeply regrets the failure of all concerned to resume their political dialogue and urges them to do so immediately and without preconditions; Decides to remain actively seized of the matter.”⁽¹⁰⁾

On July 7, 1994, Sana’a regime submitted a note to the Secretary General of the United Nations promising to continue the national dialogue.⁽¹¹⁾ However, Sana’a regime denied this promise after they won the war against the South. They accused the leaders of (P.D.R.Y) of treason and issued judgments against them. The regime also exercised acts of an occupied state such as; discharging all the southern civil and military services, forcibly retiring thousands of their work, looting the public institutions, allocating the South’s lands and properties to the army commanders and senior officials, and giving unlimited authority to the northern to loot and plunder of public and private property and assault on the rights of southern citizens.

This sad situation created a pile of refusal feelings by the southern to the armed and barbaric irrational invasion that was enforced by (Y.A.R) regime. This refusal was seen clearly in numerous and various situation-s before it was taking the rural, civilized, and vast shape in a civil movement of denial that was pract-iced by the south which resulted in forming the Southern Peaceful Movement on July 7, 2007. It was seeking freedom, independence, and the right to self-determination for the southerners. With the acquisition of this movement's organization, the Southern Peaceful Movement extended more day after day throughout all the six provinces of the south: Aden, Lahj, Abyan, Shabwah, Hadhramout, and Al-Mahrah.

II. Violation of the right to life

The article III of The Universal Declaration of Human Rights states that, "Everyone has the right to life, liberty and security of person".⁽¹¹⁾ Article VI of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights states that, "Every human being has the inherent right to life. This right shall be protected by law. No one shall be arbitrarily deprived of his life".⁽¹²⁾ However, the Yemeni Security and Military Forces continue to use its military capabilities such as: aircraft, tanks, and advanced mechanisms against the southern civilians.

Since the start of the Southern Peaceful Movement (Al-Hiraak al-Janoubi) on July 7, 2007, human rights defenders have extensively documented killings of (1593) young men, women and children perpetrated by the Yemeni Security and Military Forces (Y.S.M.F) and its armed militias of the Sana'a regime.

Most of southerners were killed by being participants in peaceful demonstrations of the Southern Peaceful Movement, being political activists, and during the bombing of cities and villages of the South. However, in most cases this force was not a threat to the lives of Sana'a regimes' soldiers.

According to field investigations, eyewitnesses, and circumstantial evidence, the security and military forces of Sana'a regime used excessive forces that claimed the lives of civilians in their homes, jobs, or while walking in the streets. Children, women and elders were a part of the southern victims. The methods of killing were as follows:

- 1- Killed the participants at peaceful demonstrations,
- 2- Killed the civilians in their homes by the indiscriminate shelling,
- 3- Killed the southerner at the military check points,
- 4- Ran over the civilian by the security forces vehicles,
- 5- Assassinated the southerner staff in the military and security.

⁽¹³⁾ Adopted and opened for signature, ratification and accession by General Assembly resolution 2200 A (XXI) of 16 December 1966.

III. Unlawful killings of civilians in the south by the military and security forces of Yemen.

“The Yemeni government needs to investigate why people were killed and wounded at an apparently peaceful protest. Given the failure to investigate similar past incidents, it’s crucial for the government to make its findings public and to hold accountable any security officers who used excessive force”

- Joe Stork, deputy Middle East and North Africa director. Press release on March 13 21, 2014

We found evidence that (96) civilians were killed by the Yemeni Security and Military Forces (Y.S.M.F) between January 1, 2014 and December 31, 2014. 10 of those were 15 children and 3 women. In most circumstances to commit the crime, there was no threat to the lives of soldiers.
